Mrs. Nora Luce, Former Resident Of Albany, Dies

Mrs. Nora Luce, a resident of Albany for 30 years before going to the Hawaiian Islands to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Frances Twigger, passed away recently in Honolulu, according to word received by old friends here. Mrs. Luce was 89.

Born in 1867, Mrs. Luce accompanied her parents at the age of 8, across the plains to Marshfield, Oregon, in a covered wagon. Besides her daughter she is survived by five grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. A son, Harry Patton of Astoria, Ore., passed away only two weeks before his mother.

Original Senior Citizens Report Vote on 'Center'

The original Senior Citizen group formed approximately two years ago, reports that they recently took a formal vote on whether to remain at their present location, 850 Masonic Avenue, or to move to the new recreational center just established by the city in the old Codornices Village area. Many of the members objected to the new location because of its distance from the center of the city and comparatively poor transportation facilities.

According to representatives of the group a special meeting was held recently, and a vote was taken as to whether the voting members wished to continue to meet at the Albany Recreation Center of Masonic Avenue, or to change their headquarters to the new location on 8th Street. The vote, as reported, was 81 to remain and 25 in favor of the proposed new location.

The majority group has announced that it will continue to meet at 850 Masonic Avenue, while the other group is planning to make use of the newly renovated recreation building at the old "Village" property. The majority group is in process of raising funds toward a permanent building of their own, but say they prefer to remain where they are for the time being in spite of the fact that the accommodations are limited.

Leaders of the Alameda County United Crusade organization are shown above offering their congratulations to Mrs. Cheryl Kleinhammer, Albany's public relations chairman, for her efficient work in furthering the campaign in Albany. The city's workers have made an enviable record and have kept within the first three cities in the percentage columns since the drive started. From left to right are: Carl O. Olson, county chairman, and Samuel B. Stewart, UBAC campaign chairman, and Mrs. Kleinhammer.

Hi 12 Members Will Hear Talk By Earl Brown

Brown, who has had wide experience in public relations and in chamber of commerce work, will take as his topic "A Community at Work."

Judge Louis J. Hardie, president of the club, will preside.

Over the state, the bank will distribute $53,300,000 to 422,000 participants in the bi-weekly savings plan.

He added that 1957 Christmas Club account books now are available at the local branch.

SENIORS IN APPEAL TO COUNCIL FOR 'HOME'

It isn't often the council chamber can boost of more than a corporal's guard on council night. The people of Albany generally let the council members discuss, and pass or deny the routine matters that come before them.

On Tuesday night of this week the Albany Seniors, at least a great many of them, had decided on what they wanted, and attended the meeting en masse to show their unanimity in the support of their cause.

Al Severy presented their case briefly, to the effect that they wanted the council to turn over their use one wing of the city's recreation building at 850 Masonic Avenue. He admitted the building had many shortcomings — it was too small, few of the windows would open, the plumbing could be improved, etc., etc., but, Severy explained, they had the talent among their members and, if the council would turn over the building to them, they would get to work at once and put it in tip-top shape.

Mayor Howell explained that there were many angles to be considered, including the fact that Recreation and playgrounds director Emmett Devine has his small office in that building. Furthermore the Civil Service Commission meet there, and keeps its files and records in its offices. The Planning and Zoning Commission also meets in that building. They might object to moving elsewhere. The Mayor said it was true there were offices in the Administration Building at the old Codornices site, but the building would need some cleaning up and overhauling; and, besides members of the two commissions and Mr. Devine might prefer to stay where they were and perhaps might have logical reasons to support that stand. We haven't consulted these, or other city department heads on the subject as yet," said the Mayor.

Mrs. Zahn argued in favor of turning the building over to the Senior Citizens. She declared offices could be found for those who might be displaced at the old "Village" property, and that even the Pre-School activities might also be moved to the new location, as she said most, if not all, the children were driven to the school by auto, whereas the older people might have transportation difficulties if the Senior Citizens should be moved to the "Village" as had previously been proposed.

Following a long discussion it was finally decided to call a special meeting of the council, at 8 o'clock, on the evening of Nov. 20, next Tuesday, at which time the Mayor announced the council would have present the city's various heads of departments and members of the various commissions for a public discussion of their housing needs, and the possibilities of using the various offices to be made available at the Administration Building. "This meeting," said the Mayor.
